

Al solutions that actually work. Tailored to you.

- \bigcirc Say the use case \rightarrow Get the solution
- Solves real-world use cases. Delivered in days.
- No data shared. No upfront cost. No compromises.

THE PROBLEM

Al should be a superpower. Instead, it's a struggle. Most Al efforts stall before they scale: blocked by inaccurate results, mounting costs, and poor adoption when solutions fail to deliver real business value.

- Mismatched Solutions: Disjointed, generic tools can't handle real-world use cases, and the result is noise, not insight.
- High Effort, Low Return: Even basic solutions take too much time, talent, and internal complexity.
- No Adoption, No Value: If AI doesn't deliver value, no one uses it, and momentum dies.

THE SOLUTION

The Managed Al Delivery Platform

Tailored AI solutions.

Delivered in days.

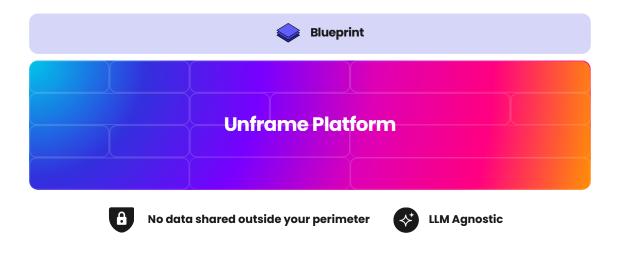

- Accurate AI that understands your business.
- Modular Al building blocks, tailored for each use case.
- Connects to any data. No model training or fine-tuning.
- → Say the use case → Get the solution, try it risk-free.

How it works

Powerful Building Blocks. Assembled by a Blueprint.

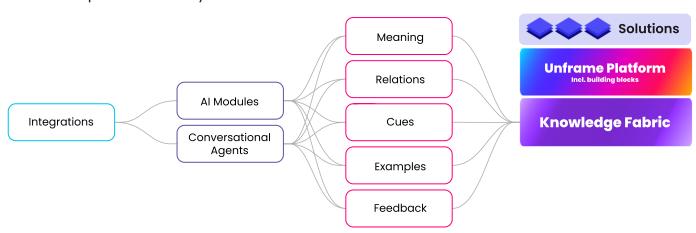

At the core of Unframe is a powerful architecture of deep technical building blocks: spanning everything from search and reasoning to automation, agents, and more. Each solution is configured by a Blueprint: a spec file that orchestrates the right building blocks for your specific use case. Blueprints adapt to your needs and every solution can run on any modern LLM - delivering fast, secure, enterprise-grade results without the heavy lift.
